

kindness	being friendly, generous and considerate
altruism	helping others without expecting a reward
charity	giving help, money or time to people in need karma	the belief that action have consequences

Big Question: How do different religions encourage people to be kind?

- Why do many religions encourage kindness?
- What do religions teach about kindness?
- Why do religions give to charity?
- What can we learn from religious stories about kindness?

