

nation	land controlled by a single government
city	a country can be divided into a city, which is the largest type of settlment and often has large populations town	a country can be divided into a town. Towns are larger than villages.
village	is the smallest type of settlement in a country where a small amount of people live settlement	a place where people live.

- What countries/nations make up the UK?
- What is the capital city of Northern Ireland/Wales/Scotland/England?
- Explain the difference between a town and a city?
- Explain what a settlement is and give three exmaples
- Why do cities have the largest population?
- What human features would you find in a city/town/village?

